

CosFest Craftmanship Judging Form

Craftsmanship judging occurs by appointment prior to CosFest itself. The craftsmanship awards are based on the design, construction quality, and execution of your costume(s). For recreation costumes, we highly recommend that you bring at least one reference picture of each character/costume in your entry.

Each person in an entry must fill out this form, even if you are a group.

Have you ever worn this costume to a previous convention?     Yes     No

If yes, did you win any awards for costume this costume?     Yes     No

How many conventions have you participated in a costume competition? _____

Please note: costumes that have been purchased or rented from a costume shop, designer direct, eBay, Yahoo Auctions, Yahoo Japan Auctions, Cospa, or any other costume store or online resource are absolutely prohibited. Likewise, you may not enter with a costume custom-made for you by a designer, tailor, or seamstress. Entering with a costume obtained from any of these sources will disqualify your group from any awards.

There are three exceptions to this policy:

1. The person who made the costume(s) is participating in the entry with you.
2. "Found Item" costumes are allowed. A "found item" costume is one built by collecting various pieces from thrift shops or normal clothing stores and combining them together in a unique way (with or without sewing/alterations) to make a costume.
3. If the participant is in the Junior/Youth division, it's okay if a relative or guardian made the costume. However, if the costume is entered for craftsmanship, this relative or guardian must appear to answer the judges' questions.

I understand the above and agree that I created this costume myself or as part of a group effort. I agree that neither I nor anyone else has worn this costume in any previous Pacific Media Expo costume contest.
